

LEUKAEMOID REACTION

- A blood picture exhibiting a marked leucocytosis with a considerable number of immature WBCs. It is similar to left shift of the regenerative type in which there is an extreme leucocytosis simulating that observed in leukemic leukaemia.

Leukaemoid reaction indicates extreme leucocytosis. With severe left shift to metamyelocyte and myelocytes but no signs of hemopoietic neoplasia and indicate severe inflammation.

www.educationresearch.com

